

A message from State's Attorney James Glasgow

"As a prosecutor, I know that the best and most effective way to fight crime is through prevention.

The informational seminars that my office provides give people the tools they need to protect themselves from becoming victims of crime.

I am proud to offer the resources and expertise of my office to help address your concerns."

Law Enforcement Training & Continuing Education

In cooperation with Tri-River Police Training Association, the State's Attorney's Office provides training to law enforcement on a variety of topics, as well as updates on the latest case law.

Our goal is to improve the coordination between police officers and the State's Attorney's Office in order to ensure proper and efficient prosecution.

Will County State's Attorney's Speakers Bureau

In addition to aggressively prosecuting criminals, Will County State's Attorney James Glasgow believes that crime prevention is critically important if we are to make our community a safe place to live, work and raise our families. As a result, State's Attorney Glasgow is committed to helping our children, educators, parents, community groups, senior citizens, businesses, local governments and faith-based organizations learn how to take the necessary steps to avoid becoming crime victims.

Members of the State's Attorney's Speakers Bureau are available for presentations on important crime prevention topics. This brochure includes some of our most commonly requested presentations. If you do not see the topic you are looking for, please contact our Crime Prevention Bureau and we may be able to provide you with other information.

If you would like someone from the State's Attorney's Speakers Bureau to make a presentation, or if you would like our office to provide materials for an event, please call our Bureau of Crime Prevention at (815) 774-7862 or e-mail crimeprevention@willcountyillinois.com
